

TERMS OF USE:

This software remains the property of The University of Western Australia ("the University") and adaptation, reproduction or modification of the software is not permitted.

The University provides the software for site usage and such usage shall be under the supervision of the recipient. The University is not responsible for any offensive or unlawful uses of the software.

This software cannot be sold, rented or used for any commercial purpose unless authorised in writing by the University.